Ley is Only Councilman Who Objects to Providing $3,000 for Improved Streets Next Year.

TEMPORARY LOAN ORDERED

Mayor Ross Presents Contract to Remove Sweepings From Paved Streets at $1 Per Day.

The city council worked in high gear at the regular session Thursday night and considerable business was transacted in a short time. The longest discussion was over the proposed change in the method of removing the sweepings from the improved streets. Mayor Ross reported that he has secured a contract from Charles Kasper to remove the sweepings from the paved sections each day at a cost of $1 per day and recommended that the contract be approved as the work costs twice that amount under the present system.

The mayor stated that the city attorney had drawn up the contract on at his request but it developed that some of the councilmen were not fully informed as to the contents of the agreement and refused to vote on it until they had time to read it over again. On motion of Ahlbrand the contract was referred to the board of works. It was suggested that Kasper begin work October 15. The board will meet in regular session on October 12.

Andrews stated that he was in favor of having the work done more cheaply provided it was done efficiently, but said he preferred to know first what he was voting on. Rockstroh and Murray said the contract was satisfactory to them and they were in favor of its immediate passage. Ahlbrand thought that the present system was satisfactory and doubted if the work could be done as well at less cost.

The contract provides that all sweepings, except tin cans, brick bats and broken glass, would be removed once each day if such sweepings were piled every other block. The mayor said the sweepings were not removed oftener than once a day under the present system, he had been informed, and thought the city should get the benefit of the $300 saving each year.

Hodapp said he was under the impression that the sweepings were removed several times each day in the business district under the present system and thought the property owners would object to having the debris piled in front of their homes and business houses for twenty-four hours. He also stated that he believed the difference in cost would be more than off-set by the time lost with the sweepers carrying the sweepings a longer distance.

Mayor Ross produced a copy of the contract which was drawn up by the city attorney but no action was taken. City Attorney Kasting said that the contract embodied the terms of the agreement rather than his views on the matter. He further stated that the work could be given to Mr. Kasper but that if the council required a bond from him it would be

TWENTY-SIX ARRESTS MADE IN SEPTEMBER

Intoxication Loses First Place Which is Taken by Train Riding Charges.

Twenty-six arrests were made by the local police department during the month of September, according to the docket in the police station. An unusual feature of the report is that there were only two arrests for intoxication during the last thirty days. As a general rule "plain drunk" is the cause of the majority of the arrests here.

Training riding led the list during the last month, a total of six having been arrested for that offense. The number is due to the activity of the local police and the patrolmen of the various railroads who are striving to break up this dangerous practice.

Rioting was the charge upon which the second largest number of arrests were made. Five were held for this offense. Arrests of other charges were provoke, 1; petit larceny, 1; trespass, 2; carrying concealed weapons, 1; selling without a license, 2; wife desertion, 1; assault and battery 3; malicious trespass, 2.

During August thirty-six arrests were made and in July thirty were "nailed" by the police.

WORKMEN GETTING STREETS IN GOOD CONDITION AGAIN

Flusher Being Used on Improved Sections Regularly—Work on Graveled Streets.

The street force is getting the improved streets in good condition again. The flusher is being used on all the streets as the trash and debris has been swept up and hauled away. In the business section of the city it was necessary to flush the streets several times before they were put in their former clean, sanitary condition.

Some work is also being done on the unimproved streets and several men are employed. Street Commissioner Brown has several places to look after as they have been reported to be defective. A few lateral sewers are reported to have become clogged up and these will be cleaned out immediately. It is thought that in a few days the street work will be conducted in the usual manner and that all complaints will be looked after promptly.

Dress Up Proclamation.

Believing the citizens of Seymour are in sympathy with the nation-wide Dress Up movement, I hereby declare and proclaim the period of October 1 to 9 as Dress Up Week.

As Mayor of the city of Seymour I commend the merchants of our city for their enterprise in displaying the best assortment of merchandise of any city of its size in southern Indiana, and urge our citizens to give them their support.

Signed, this the 1st day of October, 1915.

Jno. A. Ross, Mayor.

September Exhibits Little Originality In Weather

September 1915 exhibited very little originality so far as the weather was concerned, and the report for the last month which was filed today by J. Thomas Hays, local weather observer, shows marked similarity with the summary of the corresponding month one year ago.

The average temperature last month was 70.7 degrees against 68.3 degrees one year ago. The highest temperature recorded the last month was 94 degrees on the 13th and 14th, while the maximum during September 1914 was 96 degrees. The minimum during the month just ending was 38 degrees recorded on the 22nd. During the same month a year ago the lowest temperature was 39 degrees. The mean maximum last month was 83.9 degrees and the mean minimum was 57.4 degrees. During September 1914 the average maximum was 82.6 degrees and the mean minimum was 54.1 degrees.

The greatest daily range in temperature last month was 42 degrees on the 1st and the least range was 9 degrees on the 5th. The total precipitation was 3.69 inches, over one inch having been recorded during the closing hours of the month. During the last month the rainfall was .79 of an inch in excess of the normal amount. The greatest rainfall in twenty-four hours is recorded as 1.13 inches on the 7th. On eight days rain measuring more than .01 of an inch was noted.

During the month there were 19 clear days, 5 partly cloudy and 6 cloudy. Thunder storms occurred on the 7th and 18th. Light frosts were reported on the 22nd and 23rd. The prevailing wind was from the southwest.

The review of the report of September last year shows that the greatest daily range in temperature was 41 degrees on the 17th and the least was 12 degrees on the 2nd. The total precipitation during September 1914 was 2.30 inches, or a deficiency of .6 of an inch. The greatest rainfall in any twenty-four hours was 1.64 inches. In September 1914 there were 17 clear days, 10 partly cloudy and 3 cloudy. One thunder storm was reported and two light frosts. The prevailing wind during September 1914 was from the northeast.

BIG GAIN SHOWN IN DOCKET FEES

City Received $305.12 from Police Court from April 1 to September 30.

SETTLEMENT BY MAYOR ROSS

Total of $456.46 Paid in Since First of 1915—Increase Over Last Year.

That the police court is a source of considerable revenue to the city, is shown by the statement filed by Mayor Ross covering the period from April 1 to September 30, inclusive. The docket fees collected during that period and which have just been paid over to the city amounted to $305.12 which is the largest amount ever collected during a corresponding length of time. This is the second settlement made by the mayor with the city, the first having been made at the close of the first quarter, March 31, amounting to $151.34. Thus far this year the police court has netted the city a total of $456.46. The law provides that the mayor shall make settlement with the city during the year.

On every fine that is paid the city receives a docket fee of $5. The prosecuting attorney also gets $5 for each case in which cash settlement is made. The docket fee and the prosecutor's fee are known as the "costs" in the case and in police court always amount to $10. The fine is paid into the treasury of the state and a deputy from the attorney general's office makes settlement with the mayor for such collections. Usually the settlements are made annually with the state.

Last year the docket fees in the city court amounted to $540 but that sum will be exceeded this year if

DIVORCE CASES LEADING DOCKET

Many Will be Heard at the October Term of the Jackson Circuit Court.

HEAVY DOCKET IS PREDICTED

Judge Swails Will Open New Term on October 18—Holding Court in Lawrence.

With several new cases being filed almost every day it is predicted that the docket for the October term of the Jackson circuit court which will convene Monday, October 18, will be unusually heavy. That there are many domestic difficulties in Jackson county at this time is indicated by the large number of divorce cases that have already been filed. Seven cases of this character have been filed with County Clerk Willard Stout during the last few days and the number now exceeds that of any other action. Some of the divorces will likely be granted without the introduction of much evidence while others will result in the family troubles being aired in public.

Judge Oren O. Swails is now holding court in Lawrence county but the term closes on October 16 and he will come to Jackson county at once. The county clerk's office is making arrangements for the beginning of the new term and will have everything in readiness when the bailiff announces that the term is begun. The first few days will be given to routine business and cases will be set for trial. The attorneys will also be given an opportunity to file their pleadings. The fall term is always one of the busiest of the year and many matters will be looked after following the summer vacation.

GERMAN COUNTER ATTACKS BLOCK FRENCH PROGRESS

Paris Claims Forces Continue to Make Advances in Region West of Vimy.

By United Press.

London, October 1.—Heavy German counter attacks have again blocked the progress of the French in the Champagne region, this afternoon's statement from the French war office indicated.

Paris, however, claims that the French continue to make progress west of Vimy, though no claims of large success are made. The Kaiser evidently has drawn more reinforcements into this line. All the German attacks have broken down the war office declares.

There are indications that the Germans are planning a counter offensive at some spot in the battle line now inactive with the object of drawing off the allies from the Vimy and Champagne campaigns.

ENGLISH FORCED BACK BY GERMAN ATTACKS

French Attacks in Artois and Champagne Regions Break Down Under German Fire.

By United Press.

All French attacks in the Artois and Champagne regions including a violent onslaught northwest of Massiges broke down under German fire, it was officially stated.

DEFENSE WILL USE LESS THAN WEEK

Joseph E. Bell's Case in Marion County May go to Jury in About Three Weeks.

LOUIS LAITNER IS A WITNESS

Member of Registration Board in Seventh Ward Says He Was Offered Money by Wm. Kissel.

By United Press.

Indianapolis, October 1.—Louis Laitner, testifying today in the election conspiracy trial of Mayor Bell said that William Kissel who holds the city mule contract, tried to bribe him and his father while they were committeemen on the second day of registration.

Previous witnesses have testified that Kissel had instructed them to collect money from saloon keepers and they turned it over to Bell.

Laitner said the board had decided to have a third registration day because the vote was not all in their precinct, the Sixth of the Seventh. At that time Kissel came to him, he said, and offered him $20 and then $30. He said Kissel did not want a third registration day. "He offered my father money and then offered me $50" said Laitner, but I grabbed him and dragged him out and told him he couldn't buy us. Later he came back and said there was no use for us to be sore.

Henry Spaan, counsel for Bell, said today the defense probably would require less than a week for its evidence. Joseph Roach for the state said the state would probably finish in a week longer. It appeared the case would go to the jury in about three weeks.

STORES ARE READY FOR DRESS UP WEEK

Tomorrow Expected to See Advance on Clothing Stores in Preparation for Next Week.

SHAKESPEARE ON "DRESS UP"

Bard of Avon Had Right Idea when He Declared that "Apparel Oft Proclaims the Man."

"Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy,
But not expressed in fancy; rich, not gaudy;
For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

—Hamlet, Act 1, Scene 3.
From this it doth appear that Mr. Shakespeare fully recognized the value of a good appearance, and although history does not record the fact that staid old Stratford ever held a "Dress Up" week, it's a safe bet that if there was such a celebration, the eminent bard would have been found in the midst of the parade, strutting up and down the banks of the Avon resplendent in the glory of a new pair of the knickerbockers and the latest design lace ruffle around his neck.

It's a far cry from the styles of the day of Shakespeare to those of the present day, but human nature is much the same now as then. Crowds still pack the theatres to sit for a couple of hours under the spell of the wonderful genius of this master writer. And never was there a time when that line about the apparel proclaiming the man was more true or more generally recognized than today. Good clothes somehow seem to touch the mainspring of our ambition, which is pride, and set all the wheels to whirling. Clothing doesn't make the man, but if it's the right kind, it props him up, stimulates his self-esteem, and gives him a confidence in himself that is bound to make him feel like going out and doing something worth while.

"Dress Up" week, starting today, gives everyone an excellent opportunity to initiate that new Fall suit and hat. The ladies are to have a real fashion show, with a bevy of pretty girls to display the new modes, but the men will have to depend upon the window displays, the way the other fellow looks in his, and the reputation of the merchant and the maker. Fortunately for Seymour people, they do not have to go out of town to see the season's styles. The best there is, in both ladies and gentlemen's outfits, is to be seen right here in our home stores.

Next week is the time to get into your Fall costume. The local merchants are ready with the most complete lines of beautiful and reliable Fall clothing ever brought to the city. Select your's while the picking is good.

BIG GAIN SHOWN IN DOCKET FEES

the present rate of increase continues. From January 1 to October 1 last year the total amount paid to the city from docket fees was $372, or $84.12 less than was paid during the same period in 1915.

The amount paid over to the city does not necessarily mean that it is all the fines that have been assessed. In the local court a practice was established several years ago whereby a defendant found guilty and fined would be given three months in which to pay his fine and costs. Some of the defendants pay a certain amount each week or month until the entire amount is settled in full. The court is not required by law to do this but the practice is followed in some cases rather than send the defendants to jail when they show a desire to return to work. Frequently, this plan inures to benefit of the family of a defendant as they would be entirely without means of support if they the head of the house were hustled off to jail when he could pay the entire fine and costs. The fines that are being paid on the installment plan will be included in the next settlement which will be made at the close of the year.

Besides the amount that has been received by the city the state will profit from fines collected in this city. This amount will total well over $200 during the year as $140 was paid by three defendants in fines. There are quite a number of $1 fines and the majority of them are less than $10.

A few defendants have been tried on charges of violating city ordinances and all of this money comes to the city. The city attorney prosecutes such cases and does not receive any portion of the docket fee.

It is a well known fact that the persons who pay the fines are the least able to part with the money and the need of keeping out of trouble is often emphasized by the court in the hope that the defendants will profit by their experience. Most of the fines are paid for intoxication and assault and battery.

E. H. HAYS HAS SPLENDID COLLECTION OF "SCRIPT"

Local Man Owns Eight 10-cent Pieces Each Issued at a Different Time.

E. H. Hays today exhibited at the Republican Office what he believes to be one of the most complete collections of "script" currency in this city. The money was issued under an act passed by congress in 1863 and several pieces are well preserved. A few show that they have been handled considerable and were probably in circulation for some time.

In the collection are twelve pieces of the money. There are eight different issues of the ten-cent piece together with one each of the 3-cent, 5-cent, 15-cent and 50-cent pieces. Mr. Hays would like to have a 25-cent piece to complete his collection and recently heard of a man who had one but has been unable to locate him. A large number of people have seen the collection and were much interested in it.

Bryan to Return to Religious Work.

Lincoln, Neb., October 1.—That William Jennings Bryan is fully aware of the extent and scope of his present unpopularity, but that he is buoyed up by the confident belief that he will be vindicated by future events, became known to the ex-secretary of state's close friends during his recent visit to his Lincoln home.

It is well understood here that Bryan intends to turn more and more toward religious work, not becoming an out-and-out evangelist like Sunday, but using his great gifts on the platform in a somewhat refined line of work.

While the arrangements have not yet been announced it is pretty well understood that Bryan is to be the forty-two centimetre gun in the Nebraska prohibition campaign in 1916.

RED SOX "STACK UP" STRONGER THAN PHILLIES

Plain, Ordinary Grit Plus Fighting Spirit Gave Bill Carrigan a Pennant Winner.

By George R. Holmes, United Press Staff Correspondent.

New York, October 1.—Oh plain, unvarnished "dope" the Red Sox from this comparatively early viewpoint, stack up stronger than the Phillies in the coming world's clash, and probably will, barring injuries, go into the October classic as big a favorite as ever did the Mackmen over the Giants, or the Mackmen over the Braves.

It wasn't luck that gave Bill Carrigan a pennant winner this year. It was plain ordinary grit, plus a couple of tons of sheer fighting, and some rattling, good consistent baseball. No manager ever faced a April getaway with a stiffer field to fight against than did this man Bill Carrigan.

Chicago's new sadly crumpled White Sox, reinforced by the meteoric Collins at second, and with a chuckling staff reckoned to be the class of the circuit, started well and set the pace until Hume, when they had been squelched, a new ogre rose to confront the Boston meteor—the Tigers. And it was some ogre. Cobb was playing the best baseball of his scintillating career. Crawford was slugging with all his old-time power, Veatch was playing like a fiend, and Jennings had an infield, his first since 1909. All this array of power was backed up with a fair pitching staff.

But Bill Carrigan came through, when the time came for a "crucial" series—like the recent one with the Tigers at Boston, which really gave his men the pennant—he went out and won games. There was no cracking under the strain.

Boston has worked its way into the Big Tilt through the classiest field that ever represented Ben Johnson's loop. The Phillies have won a pennant from a field that probably is the weakest that ever represented the National Circuit, and that's taking no credit away from Pat Moran, either, because he deserves all the roses than be shied at his red head.

Both the favorites in the National League dropped by the wayside. The Giants never were in the hunt, and the Braves, handicapped by injuries and suspensions, put up a game, but futile, fight. Brooklyn threatened for a while, but their opposition was not of the steady variety. The Phillies haven't played flashy ball. They displayed a flash to take the lead early in the season, but since then have played fifty-fifty ball, content in the belief that their enemies didn't have the stuff for a spurt that would overtake them. They were right, for had either the Braves or Superbas possessed a drive of any power at all, the Phils could have been unseated at almost any stage of the race.

And because of this—because Bill Carrigan's clan has fought its way to a pennant through a bunch of hard clubs while Moran has had comparatively easy sailing—because of this, the American League entry will, barring unforeseen events, go into the series a favorite, if for no other reason.

necessary to advertise for bids as such contracts could be awarded only after the law had been complied with. Andrews stated that he was not opposed to the plan but thought that the matter should be brought before the board of works before final action was taken.

Ahlbrand, chairman of the finance committee, reported that the city treasury was depleted as the fall installment of taxes had not yet been received. He said there was no money in the park fund and the street fund was almost exhausted. He recommended a temporary loan and later in the meeting introduced a resolution empowering the clerk and treasury to borrow any part of $8,000 that is needed to tide the city over until the tax money is received. He thought that a demand should be made upon the county treasurer for part of the funds due the city. Light, water and other bills are due in a few days.

Rockstroh, chairman of the board of works, asked for further time to report on the alley improvement in the Hustett block, and his request was granted. He also reported that a ditch on South Walnut street was filled up and the water was running over the sidewalk. The street commissioner was instructed to look after the complaint.

Steinwedel, chairman of the board of safety reported a vacancy in the list of volunteer firemen and it was voted to bring the matter up in the board of works meeting.

Upon motion of Hodapp the ordinance requiring peddlers to pay a fee of $15 per day to solicit in the city was referred to the board of works. The ordinance is ready for second reading.

The ordinance appropriating $3,000 for sweeping the improved streets next year was read for the third time and passed by a vote of six to one, Ley opposing it. Before the vote was taken, however, Mayor Ross asked the council to delay action as he had communicated with the clerks of several cities asking the cost of sweeping the improved streets. He said he did not think there was any necessity of passing the ordinance at this time as the money did not become available until the first of next year.

The mayor stated that he had received a letter from the clerk at Columbus to the effect that the cost of sweeping the improved streets there was between $2,200 and $2,300 annually. He said Columbus had approximately the same mileage of paved streets as Seymour. The work is done there by hand, he said. At Washington the cost of sweeping approximately four miles of improved streets is between $900 and $1,000. Most of the streets there are brick and the mayor stated it is conceded that these are harder to sweep than concrete. A rotary sweeper is used there. He said he expected to have figures from other cities of this size in a few days and thought the council should wait until the reports are filed.

Some of the council said that they believed the ordinance should be passed at this time and if the city could save a $1,000 or more later the money would revert to the general fund and could be used for improving the brick streets as suggested by City Engineer Rights at the board of works meeting. After some discussion the question was called and all the councilmen voted for the appropriation except Ley.

Steinwedel reported that a sewer at Jackson and Beech streets was in need of repair and although the work had been ordered some time ago attention was not paid to it. Upon his motion the street commissioner was instructed to clean out the tile. Hodapp suggested that as the work had been ordered done once before that the street commissioner look after the complaint the first thing Thursday morning.

Upon motion of Ahlbrand the city clerk was ordered to advertise for bids on a small car load of coal for the city building. The bidders are to designate the kinds and prices.

Although the park fund is exhausted the following claims were allowed with the understanding that such bills would be paid as soon as the money is obtained:

TEUTONS LOSE MORE GROUND

Unable to Stand Up Before French Drive.

121 GERMAN GUNS TAKEN

Joffre's Troops Capture Second Line Trenches West of Tahure Heights—Make Progress at Other Points—Stick in Face of Bombardment.

Paris, Oct. 1.—The French have gained more ground from the Germans, and everywhere in Artois and in Champagne the great offensive is being continued.

The booty captured in the first rush of the forward movement is growing rapidly as the work of counting is completed, so that now the seriousness of the German losses is much more clearly understood than was the case immediately after the first onslaught. The number of heavy field pieces taken in Champagne alone, now totals 121.

The wounded French soldiers now in Paris say that the system of wire entanglements built by the Germans was more intricate than anything they had dreamed of. Even after the big guns had literally churned up the earth many of the stakes and entanglements remained as a serious impediment to rapid advance.

It would seem that in Champagne, particularly, it was the cavalry that completed the route of the Germans from their first positions. The charge of the horsemen, say the wounded, made a fine spectacle and was the last thing needed to turn the Germans to flight. Many of the men are wounded in the legs. It was the machine gun fire, playing on them as they advanced, that made these wounds. A great many, too, are suffering from Bayonet wounds.

A bombardment of unusual intensity of the newly won positions in Artois has failed completely to dislodge the French troops or even to shake the security of their hold. The latest entrenchments taken in this sector on the heights between Souchez and Vimy, are being planted with heavy batteries.

In Champagne has occurred the hottest fighting of the day. West of the Tahure heights French troops charged into the second line of German trenches, capturing and holding the positions, and advanced even further, but were compelled to return by a flanking fire. North of Mesnil and Massiges additional progress was made and south of Ripont the first line German positions previously taken have been enlarged.

London, Oct. 1.—As a direct consequence of the continued successful drive of the allies in the west, Field Marshal von Hindenburg is launching determined efforts to reduce the length of the battle line in western and southwestern Russia so as to make possible, it is presumed, the dispatching of part of his legions to reinforce the hard-pressed Germans in northern France and Belgium.

Three chief effects of this new force, strategy of the German commander-in-chief in Russia stand out in the reports from the east, two in the German official report, the other in unofficial advices from Petrograd.

Hindenburg's Wilna army, in a determined drive along the Wilna-Holodetschno railroad, with Minsk as the goal, broke through the Russian positions at Smorgon by storm, taking 1,000 prisoners, guns and war material. Its capture is vital to the advance of von Hindenburg's center.

Simultaneously with this move in the center, the German left wing, still wrestling for the possession of Dwinsk, drove back the Russians into the marshes and lakes south of that city, the German war office report asserts.

From Petrograd comes the admission that the Austro-Germans south of the Pripiet captured Ciartorski, twenty miles west of the railroad junction at Sarny.

The same dispatch says the Germans control the Styra to a point southwest of the fortress of Lutsk, again in their hands.

Taking the German official statement as a guide, however, local military experts attach considerable importance to the renewed vigor of the German offensive, especially in the south.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY PROBES GERMAN PLOT

Plan to Foment Trouble in Mexico.

New York, Oct. 1.—The federal grand jury has begun an investigation into an alleged German plot to foment trouble for the United States in Mexico following the arrest of Andrew D. Melloy, a real estate man and promoter of Mexican enterprises, who came in on the liner Hieuw Amsterdam, with his wife and secretary, Miss Nettie Broph.

The warrant on which Melloy was taken off the steamer at quarantine, does not charge him with complicity in the Mexican plot, but makes the accusation that Melloy assisted Franz Rintelen, a German, in an effort to get a fraudulent American passport here last July, shortly after the alleged passport the plot miscarried.

Melloy was taken before United States Commissioner Houghton and held in $10,000 bond. He had made arrangements by wireless from the steamer for the National Surety company to furnish the bond when he reached here.

Assistant United States Attorney Sarfatty declares Melloy with his wife and secretary, sailed on the Holland American liner Noordam, accompanied by Rintelen, who had assumed the name of Edward V. Gasche, and had managed to get hold of a Swiss passport for his purpose.

Rintelen is said to be a confidential agent of the kaiser. He and his companions were taken off the Noordam at Falmouth by the British authorities. Rintelen was held in a detention camp while Melloy and his wife and secretary were sent back here to be met at quarantine by the department of justice agents who went out to meet the Noordam in a revenue cutter.

Sunday School Lesson

Lesson XIII. September 26 Third Quarter
For Individual Review of the Quarter

Ahab and Naboth side by side on earth, the rich and the poor, meet together, but there is a hereafter, as described in Luke xvi, and the rich here are sometimes awfully poor, and worse than poor, when they leave this world. It is certainly a pitiful phase of sinful human nature when such as Ahab desire also a poor man's all and act like a spoiled child when they cannot get it. He was heavy and displeased when reproved by the Lord for compromising with Ben-hadad, and now he is the same because he cannot have Naboth's vineyard, and he went to bed, turned away his face and would not eat (xx, 43; xxi, 1-4). Many a man in Naboth's place would have been afraid to displease such a one as Ahab, but Naboth feared the Lord and evidently remembered that the land was His and was not to pass from tribe to tribe (Lev. xxv, 23; Num. xxxvi, 7), and he would rather displease Ahab at any cost than displease the Lord. Such whole hearted people for God are greatly needed—those who will never bow to any, however mighty, if thus they can glorify God. The fear of man always bringeth a snare. We must live in the fear of the Lord always.

Jezebel, on learning what ailed her husband, urged him to remember that he was the king, that he should arise and eat and be merry and she would give him Naboth's vineyard (verses 5-7). The people who give what does not belong to them, no matter who suffers by it, are still to be found on earth—unscrupulous, proud, selfish, the earth is mine; what right have you on it? There are also plenty to do their bidding, no matter what it is, whether to oppress and ruin a man or his family or business or even to take a man's life, as did these vassals of Jezebel (verses 8-14). Some one has said that if the servants of Christ were as ready to serve Him as the servants of the devil are to serve him many things would be different all around.

It seems to us strange that the Lord should permit the devil to afflict and kill His people, but He told His disciples that they would be put out of the synagogue and even killed for His sake and that they must not be afraid to be killed (John xvi, 1, 2; Matt. x, 28). In the very next chapter we see a faithful servant of the Lord, Micalah, the son of Imlah, put in prison and fed on bread and water because he spoke the Lord's message and feared no man's frown and sought no man's favor (xxii, 8, 14, 27, 28). The time will come, after the church is taken away, when the saints then on earth, converts after the rapture, the redeemed of Rev. vii the great tribulation saints, shall suffer terribly at the hands of the servants of the devil (Dan. vii, 21, 25; Rev. xiii, 5-8), but their victory is seen in Rev. xv, while the torment of those who prefer life and the favor of man is seen in Rev. xiv, 9-11.

Word was brought by the murderers to the murdereress that Naboth was dead, stoned to death, like Stephen and Saul, long afterward, but they did not know the God of Naboth, who ever liveth and cares for His own, though He often allows that which looks like evil to come to them. It stands forever true that all things work together for good to them that love God (Rom. viii, 28). Ahab went to take possession of Naboth's vineyard, but an awful message came to him from the Lord by the mouth of Elijah concerning both himself and his wife. "Thus saith the Lord, In the place where dogs licked the blood of Naboth shall dogs lick thy blood, even thine," and "The dogs shall eat Jezebel by the wall of Jezreel" (verses 19, 23). See the fulfillment of both of these predictions in xxii, 38, and II Kings ix, 10, 26, 30-37. There is a reaping for all sowing both here and hereafter, for "whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap," and "they that have sown the wind shall reap the whirlwind" (Gal. vi, 7, 8; Hos. viii, 7).

Ahab called Elijah his enemy (verse 20), but it was Ahab who was the enemy of Elijah and of the Lord, for he had sold himself to the devil to work evil in the sight of the Lord, being stirred up to do so by his wicked wife, Jezebel (verses 20, 25). He said to Elijah, "Hast thou found me?" And Elijah said, "I have found thee" (verse 20). This reminds us of the words in Num. xxxii, 23, "Be sure your sin will find you out," and also of Matt. x, 26, "There is nothing covered that shall not be revealed, and hid that shall not be known." Oh, the revealings of that day, when there may be many works of even Christians burned up because of self (I Cor. iii, 11-15). It looks as if Ahab might have been a different man but for his wicked wife. And oh, how gracious the Lord was to him! He knew him thoroughly, and yet when He saw some apparent repentance, humility and fasting He held off the evil during his days (verses 27-29). The alliance of Jehoshaphat (who was one of the eight good kings of Judah) with Ahab, as recorded in chapter xxii, is one of the strange combinations of the godly and ungodly which prove so disastrous always. Why not determine to lay to heart II Cor. vi, 14-18, and live accordingly, for wholehearted separation unto the Lord is the only way.

STATE W. C. T. U. HAS CRITICISM FOR LAWMAKERS

Temperance Workers Will Appeal to Congress for National Prohibition Measures.

Muncie, Ind., October 1—At the second session of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Indiana, which is holding its forty-second annual state meeting here resolutions were introduced criticising the action of the Indiana congressmen in helping to defeat the Hobson amendment to the constitution calling for national prohibition; opposing a "standing army and other displays of warlike spirit, which tend to discourage peace;" deploring the "iniquitous white slave traffic," and demanding that the sentence for conviction on this charge be increased. The resolutions also recommend that the Bible be read in the public schools.

The resolutions were read by Mrs. Martha Gipe, of Indianapolis, chairman of the committee on resolutions. Because of minor changes to be made the resolutions were referred back to the committee with instructions to report tomorrow morning.

In her address Mrs. Culla Vayhinger, state president, declared that prohibition had made world-wide gains. "Russia's example would be a good one for the United States to follow," she said. She attacked the last State Legislature, which "unceremoniously relegated appeals for prohibition and partial woman suffrage to the background."

"The members of the Senate have asserted that they were petti-coated by the W. C. T. U.," said Mrs. Vayhinger. "We don't deny that allegation, and we expect to continue that practice until we receive the ballot, when we shall be given the opportunity of being on the floor of the State Legislature alongside the men who now criticize us. We wish the direct, not the indirect influence which these gentlemen say we now possess."

The convention is the most largely attended in the history of the Indiana W. C. T. U., 900 delegates being registered.

TWO GERMAN ATTACKS REPULSED BY FRENCH

Paris War Office Says Further Progress Has Been Made in Drive Towards Vimy Heights.

By United Press.

Paris, October 1—The French have made further progress in their drive towards Vimy Heights, according to the official statement from the war office this afternoon.

The Germans are violently attacking in the Artois and Champagne regions and north of the Aisne, it was officially admitted, but their onslaughts have been repulsed.

"East and southeast of Neuville, two German attacks were repulsed," said the official statement. "The first was directed against our fortified works in the Giornay forest; the second against the French trenches south of Hill 119."

Earliest Guide Book.

The earliest guide book written in the English language is "Instructions for Forraine Travell," a duodecimo published in 1642 by James Howell.

"As was natural in those days," says the London Chronicle, "Howell assumes that anyone traveling on the continent for pleasure was able to 'entertaine a Cooke, a Laquay and some young youth for his Page to parley and chide withall, whereof he shall have occasion enough, and to get some faire lodgings to keep house of himself; but sometimes he may frequent Ordinaries, for it will much breake and embolden him.'"

The instructions to provide for a tour through France, Italy, Spain, Germany, Belgium and Holland, "all which may be done completely in three years and four months, which four months I allow for itinerary removals and journeys, and the years for residence in places." In those days "forraine travell" meant something more than a month's skip through Europe.

Miss Minnie McWhorter, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Mary Spencer, and other relatives, returned to her home in Chesterfield this morning.

Mrs. Katherine Eller and children came from Cincinnati this morning to visit relatives here and at Crothersville until Sunday evening.

Large Shipments Made to Illinois Besides the Many Sales in This Locality.

Employees at the local cooper shop, of which Charles Sauer is the owner, are working exclusively on apple barrels in order to supply the big demand which comes at this time of the year. Besides the hundreds of barrels that are needed to take care of the apple crop in Jackson and adjoining counties large shipments are being made to Illinois. About three carloads of apple barrels a week are being manufactured by the local shop.

Mr. Sauer said today that the war had had a direct effect on the business this year as many of the shipments abroad are now made in sacks whereas they were made in barrels before the war started. This is especially true of flour shipments. As soon as the demand for apple barrels is supplied the shop will begin to make barrels for local flour shipments.

DIAMOND DUST.

The Red Sox and Columbus teams will clash again on the local diamond Sunday and the locals are about due to set Manager Poulton's team back. As this will be the first game for the Red Sox here in the last three weeks, a good crowd is expected. Lefty Durning, who pitched such a good game against Columbus last week, will again be on the mound, with Crabbe receiving.

Levi may be on the bench Sunday, as his hitting has been very weak in the last several games. Flecker would probably be put on first in this case, with Green playing his place in the outfield.

The Ottos will resume hostilities with North Vernon Sunday at that place. Many of their friends expect to accompany them to see the game.

Whitehouse will work for Columbus again Sunday. The big left hander now has four straight victories over the local team to his credit, and boasts that he has their number. It certainly looks like it.

On good authority comes the story that Mike Simon says he would like to wind up his baseball career here at Seymour where he really started it, and says that after his big league days are over, if Seymour has a team and wants him, he will be glad to help them out in any way he can. Simon's popularity with local fans, and his experience and thorough knowledge of the game would make him an ideal manager for the locals next year, or the year after. Mike's playing days in the big show are nearly over, and it would not be surprising to local fans if this were his last year.

Simon's first appearance on a Seymour diamond was when the Hayden team came over to play the old Reds, who were then in the zenith of their power. The young catcher made such an impression that he was immediately signed up and played two seasons with the locals, during which his receiving, throwing and all round work featured the playing of a team that won practically all of their games against the best Cincinnati, Louisville and Indianapolis could send here. From here Simon went to Piqua, Ohio, where he played a short while on a fast semi-pro team, when he was signed up by the Columbus, O. team of the double A circuit. The Senators, however, had some big league receivers unloaded on them that year, and Mike was sold to Cedar Rapids, in the "Three I" league, where he played for a couple seasons, when one of Fred Clarke's scouts saw him work and lost no time in getting him into the Pirate fold. For several years he was Clark's second catcher, and during the heat of their annual dashes for the pennant, divided the receiving work with George Gibson. His work was an important factor in winning the pennant for Pittsburg in 1909, and putting them in a position that enabled them to win the world's championship from Detroit.

Last year Simon jumped to the Feds, playing with St. Louis and this year he and Grocer Land have been doing the catching for Ward's Brooklyn team.

Local fans would welcome the idea of a first class team for next year under the managership of a man of Simon's caliber.

Several Inquiries Made at Local Postoffice Today Relative to Plans for New Building.

One set of the prints and specifications for the new postoffice building was delivered to a contractor this afternoon. Several inquiries have been made during the day concerning the plans and it is thought that all of them will be taken out before the end of the week. Postmaster
Swope and his deputy, Albert Mains, have been going over the specifications in order to ascertain what is required of each contractor. Before a set of the plans can be taken from the local postoffice the contractor is required to sign up for them. It is stated that one set of the specifications may be taken out without filing a certified check, but if any bidder desires more than one set he is required to leave a check for $100 with the postmaster.

It is stated that if a contractor takes out a set of government plans and fails to return them after he had made his estimate on the work he is forbidden from ever bidding on any government work thereafter.
This ruling is made in order that all the plans will be taken care of and safely returned to the treasury department.

The bids for the new building will be opened in the treasury department at Washington on October 30.

INDIANA TO PAY UNUSUAL HONOR TO JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY, THE POET

Governor Issues Proclamation Calling on All Citizens to Observe Riley Day.

Sunset of Career Far Distant, Says Interviewer—Poet Feels Like Boy Again.

ALL Indians and, incidentally, many other states are getting ready for a big celebration on Oct. 7. On that day will occur the sixty-sixth birthday of James Whitcomb Riley, the poet whose name is a household word throughout America, the friend of kings and emperors. That Indiana means to make the occasion one to be remembered is evidenced by the following proclamation which has been issued by Samuel M. Ralston, governor of the Hoosier state:

"James Whitcomb Riley was born on the 7th day of October, 1849, in Greenfield, Hancock county, Ind., and he has lived all his life in the state of his birth. He is a Hoosier to the core. In his early boyhood he was afforded the usual educational advantages common to boys in his station of life, but these advantages were really hindrances to him. He was a genius, and his spirit sought realms beyond the schoolroom. It was impossible to throw limits about the sweep of his mind by the inflexible rules of the schoolmaster, and he instinctively accepted the world as his field of labor and the human heart as the source of his inspiration and the object of his devotion.

"Whether the arch above his head was at times one of sunshine or one of cloud, all recognized that in the depths of his soul there was love for his fellow man and adoration for his God. Whether he was painting signs or writing verses, the people were his study. He familiarized himself with their manners and customs and characteristics, and with melody and sweetness and a singular gift of invention he yes, over the whole world—for Jim Riley, former barefoot boy from Greenfield, counts his friends by the thousands.

Even Riley, at that time so weak he was scarcely able to carry on a conversation, said faintly, "My work is finished, and my end is come." Newspapers everywhere prepared their obituaries.

But the end did not come, and when I saw Riley I felt sure the sunset of his picturesque career was still far distant.

Dislikes Politics and War.

"I feel like a boy," he said, with a cheerful laugh, as he extended his left hand. "I haven't felt so strong for years. Every day I drive out in my car and am enjoying life in spite of the war in Europe. You see, I never read the newspapers and don't know anything about what's going on over there. It has always been my aim to avoid things that are disagreeable and which cause pain. I haven't even voted for thirty years. I dislike politics as much as I dislike war. Both are inhuman. They arouse anger, and, therefore, are wrong.

"The quiet little schoolma'am may be more of a success of nature than the leader of conquering armies, and the world not know it. Success in life comes to him who follows the paths of his better inclination. In the great, beautiful law of nature things don't forcibly carve out a groove for themselves. But they invariably find places which fit them where they thrive and crown their existence with happiness and success, for the one is the other.

"Whether the world regards a man as great or lowly, as a success or failure, matters not. He will know and feel and be rich far above the world's standards of measure.

"The world differentiates happiness and success with cold sophistry. But they are inseparable. War and politics bring nothing but sorrow. They are wrong."

A Well Dressed Poet.

Then looking down at his right hand, which in spite of the recovery of his general health is still paralyzed, he added:

"This nearly drives me to crime. For years now I have been practicing using a pen with my left hand. It has been slow work and looks so untidy."

Riley is probably the most fastidious poet in the history of literature. No Lord Byron soft collars or Edgar Allan Poe flowing ties or long, uncured hair for him. His clothes are neat and plain and of the latest fashion. His cuffs always protrude from the coat sleeve a precise distance. His shoes shine like a mirror, and his cravat looks as though it had never been worn before. And every hair on his head looks as though it knew the particular groove in which it should lie.

He is a small, light haired, blue eyed man and has the general appearance of a New York banker.

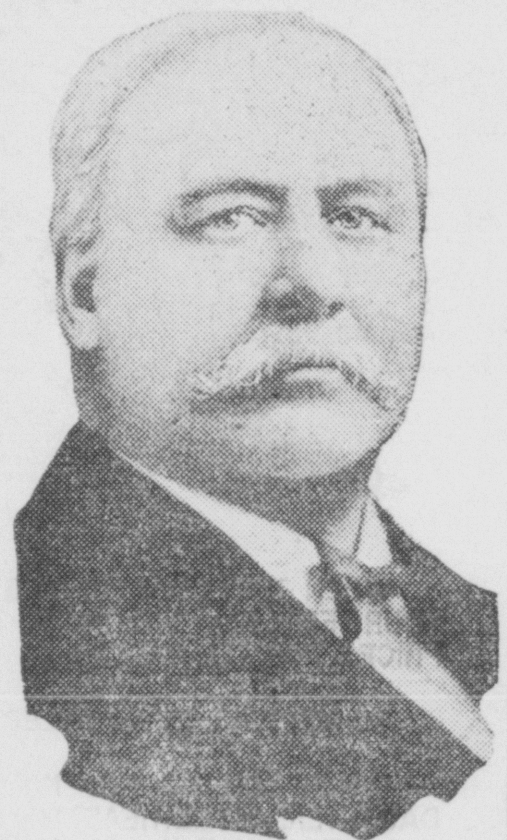

Jim Riley abhors things unnatural. Every week he goes from Indianapolis out to Greenfield. He chats with every farmer he meets by the way. The children all know him, and they flock around him.

Plan For Great Banquet.

The day I visited with the poet a committee representing the citizens of Indianapolis called on him at his old fashioned red brick house in Lockerbie street. They told him the city wanted to tender a banquet on the occasion of the anniversary of his birth, Oct. 7. The committee was headed by Mayor Joseph E. Bell and Meredith Nicholson.

"It makes me so happy I want to laugh," said Riley.

GOVERNOR RALSTON.

He still has the heart of a boy. Nothing would grieve him more than to have some one say he is aging. He still has the same cheerful, light hearted, sympathetic nature he had when he played clown with the rest of the "fellers" up in the hayloft many years ago.

So they are going to have this banquet in October, and the committee has invited the most distinguished persons in literature and public life from all parts of the country. It will probably surpass any banquet of its kind ever held. Similar ones have been tendered Mark Twain and William Dean Howells.

A Biographical Tragedy.

Riley never likes to talk about himself. He has not written an autobiography and never will. He doesn't even like to have any one quote him. "It seems so conceited" is his way of explaining.

The story of his life has never been written. Many years ago a number of Chicago writers decided to put out a biography. They wrote it carefully and had it set in type. They then thought it would be a wise plan to have Riley verify it. When the proofs were taken to him he was greatly mortified. He protested and asked his friends to leave him alone, saying his life was too commonplace to interest any one. The authors were insistent, so the poet in despair agreed to look over the proofs.

Many months after that he sent them back. With wonderful cleverness he had doctored the biography beyond recognition. Not a specific or direct statement was left. Every date was scratched out, and every story was changed to make it appear to a reader as though it was doubtful whether it was about him.

And, on top of that, when the book was published it was discovered he had bought all rights to it and had everything destroyed.

Riley Likes to Tell Stories.

Riley likes to tell stories. One that he particularly likes to tell is the following: He was summoned as a witness in a case tried in an Indiana court where one of the witnesses evinced some disinclination to state her age.

RILEY AS HE IS TODAY.

told them things about themselves they did not know. This is why they have always loved him so.

"More than any other citizen of Indiana James Whitcomb Riley has carried the fame of his native state into the schools and homes of the world. It is not strange, therefore, that there should be a widespread feeling among our people that the next anniversary of his birth should be celebrated in honor of his poetic genius and literary achievements and in recognition of his contributions to society.

Riley Day Is Proclaimed.

"The people are grateful to those who honor and serve them and willingly make public acknowledgment thereof. To whom could they with greater propriety pay such tribute than to this sweet singer? He is the children's poet, and he has become such because he has so much of the spirit of the One who said 'Suffer little children to come unto me.' All Indiana will rejoice, therefore, to see her children afforded an opportunity to place their heart wreaths upon his brow and strew their flowers about his feet.

"Now, therefore, I, Samuel M. Ralston, as governor of the state of Indiana, hereby designate and proclaim the 7th day of October, 1915, the anniversary of the birth of James Whitcomb Riley, as Riley day, and I urge all the people of the state to arrange in their respective communities in their own way appropriate public exercises in their schools and at their other public meeting places, and that they display the American flag at their homes and places of business on this day in honor of James Whitcomb Riley, Indiana's most beloved citizen.

"In witness whereof I have set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the state of Indiana at the capital in the city of Indianapolis, this 8th day of September, A. D. 1915.

"SAMUEL M. RALSTON, Governor.

"By the Governor, Homer L. Cook, Secretary of State."

Four years ago, says a writer in the New York Times, word went out that Hoosier Jim—James Whitcomb Riley—the Indiana singer of songs and writer of jingles, had written his last rime, that he was paralyzed and near the grave. It cast a pall of gloom over the Hoosier State, over all America—

"Is it very necessary?" coyly asked the witness, a spinster of uncertain age.

"It is absolutely necessary, madam," interposed the judge.

"Well," sighed the maiden, "if I must I suppose I must. I didn't see how it could possibly affect the case, for, you see—"

"Madam," observed the judge with some asperity, "I must ask you not to further waste the time of this court. Kindly state your age."

"Whereupon the spinster showed signs of hysterics.

"I am—that is, I was—"

"Madam, hurry, hurry up!" exclaimed the judge, now thoroughly impatient. "Every minute makes it worse, you know!"

The Young Heathen.

Another favorite story of the poet is as follows:

"A certain young mother was striving to bring up her small son in a proper Christian manner.

"His day ended with the usual short prayer at his mother's knee before going to bed.

"One night she was called away and returned to find him snuggled under the warm blankets.

"Did you say your prayers, dear?" she inquired.

"Nope," was the answer.

"Are you not going to say them?"

"I didn't say 'em last night nor tonight," said the small heathen cheerfully, "an' then, if nothin' happens tomorrow night I won't say 'em any more at all."

VETERANS GRIP THE PRESIDENT'S HAND

Over 8,500 Attend Reception, Overflowing the White House Grounds.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Approximately 8,500 men and women of the G. A. R. and allied organizations shook hands with President Wilson in the east room of the White House.

The ceremony lasted a little more than two hours. The president greeted many of his guests with a kindly smile and he had an attentive ear for the scores who insisted upon pausing to murmur some little personal comment of admiration.

Arrangements had been made for the reception of about two thousand persons, including former Union army officers, the grand army encampment of Paterson, N. J., and members of the Woman's Relief corps. About six thousand others, wearing identification badges, which they said they had purchased for 25 cents each with the understanding that they would be admitted to the White House waiting at the east entrance at the hour set for the reception. The crowd overflowed the White House grounds and completely filled the street between the White House and the treasury department from east entrance to Pennsylvania avenue.

Patrolmen in the White House grounds caused a lot of trouble by stating that the number to be admitted to the White House reception was limited, and that only a chosen few would be given an opportunity to greet Mr. Wilson. The crowd pressed at the gates and a little riot was threatened. One veteran fainted and was taken to a hospital in an ambulance. The president's secretary learned of the excitement and appeared on the east balcony commanding that no one be turned away.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face.

"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'Sentinel' tablets—that's the name—and this use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Sentinel tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blisters, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unightly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowel—and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of this wonderful benefit.

"Sentinel tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth and swallow one at bedtime to realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening after-effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Sentinel tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the safest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "sentinel tablet" as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives.

Sentinel tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of encouraging the "cathartic habit." Also, instead of injuring the membranous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inexpressiveness is another reason for the popularity of sentinel tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found.—Druggists Review.

The BALL of FIRE

By GEORGE RANDOLPH CHESTER and LILLIAN CHESTER
ILLUSTRATED BY C.D. RHODES

The soft air which blew upon Gail's cheek was like the first breath of spring, and there was the far-off prophecy of awakening in the very sunshine, as she sped out the river road with Allison in his powerful runabout.

"It's glorious!" exclaimed Gail, her cheeks answering to the caress of the air with a flush of blossomlike delicacy. She was particularly contented today. Allison had been so busy of late, and she had missed him. With all his strength, he was restless.

"I feel like a new man at this time of the year," returned Allison, glancing at Gail with cool appreciation. A car full of men passed them, and the looks they cast in his runabout pleased him. "Gail, do you remember the first time we drove out here?"

"Indeed yes," she laughed. "With the snow in our eyes, and the roads all white, with the lights gleaming through the flakes like arctic will-o'-the-wisps. We ran away that night, and dined at Roseleaf inn, and worried the folks to death, for fear we had had an accident."

"I had more than an accident that night," said Allison. "I had a total wreck."

Gail glanced at him quickly, but his face was clear of any apparent purpose. He was gazing straight ahead, his clean-cut profile, always a pleasant thing to look upon, set against the shifting background of rocky banks as if it were the one steadfast and unalterable thing in the universe; and he was smiling introspectively.

"It was about here that it happened," he went on. "I think I'd been bragging a little, and I think you meant to slyly prick my balloon, which I will admit seemed a kind and charitable thing to do."

"What was it?" wondered Gail, trying to recall that unimportant conversation.

"Oh, a gentle intimation that I hadn't done so much," he laughed. "I had just finished consolidating all the traction cars in New York, subways, L's, and surface; and I felt cocky about it. I even remarked that I had achieved the dream of my life, and intended to rest a while. All you said was, 'Why?' and his laugh pealed out."

"I used to be conspicuous for impertinence," smiled Gail. "I'm trying to reform."

"I'm glad you hadn't started when I met you," returned Allison, steering around a sharp stone with the firm accuracy which Gail had so often admired. "I never had so stinging a reproof as that little why. It did me more good than any sermon I ever heard."

Gail looked at him in questioning perplexity. She could not gather what he meant, but she had a sense of something big, and once more she was impressed with the tremendous reserve force in the man. His clear gray eyes were fixed on the road ahead, and the very symbol of him seemed to be this driving, top speed, a long road, a steady hand, a cool determination, a sublime disregard of hills and valleys which made them all a level road.

"Why? That word set me out on a new principle that never, while I had strength in me, would I consider my work finished, no matter how great an achievement I had made. I am still at work."

Calmly Munching Chocolates.

Something within her leaped up in answer to the thrill of exultation in his voice. To have been the inspiration of great deeds, even by so simple an agency as the accidental use of a word, was in itself an exalting thing, though an humbling one, too. And there were great deeds. She was sure of that as she looked at him.

"When I was a boy I lived on ancient history," he went on, with a smile for the bygone dreamer he had been. "I wanted to be a soldier, a great general, a warrior, in the sturdy old sense, and my one hero was Alexander the Great, because he conquered the world! That's what I wanted to do. When I grew older, and found how small was the world which Alexander had conquered, not much bigger than the original thirteen states, I grew rather disillusioned, particularly as I was working at about that time for a dollar and a quarter a day. I spent a few busy years, and had forgotten the dream; then you said 'why' and it all came back."

"Hurry!" commanded Gail. "Curiosity is bad for me."

"Let me build it up, step by step, for you. Incidentally, I'll give you some confidential news which you will be reading in months to come. I hope," and he laughed, "that you will not tell your friends the reporters about it."

"Cross my heart, I won't," she gayly replied. The sting of her one big newspaper experience had begun to die away.

"When you asked me why, I was trying to secure Vedder court for a terminal station for my city traction lines. Vedder court quickly became, in my imagination, the terminal point not only of the city traction lines, but of the world's transportation. From that I would run a railroad tube to the mainland, so that I could land passengers, not only in the heart of New York, but at the platforms of every street car and L and subway train."

"How wonderful!" exclaimed Gail, in enthusiasm. This was an idea she could grasp. "And have you secured Vedder court?"

"It's a matter of days," he returned carelessly. "The next step was the transcontinental line. I built it up, piece by piece, and today, under my own personal control, with sufficient stock to elect my own directors, who will jump when I crack the whip, I possess a railroad line from the Atlantic to the Pacific so direct, so straight, and so allied with ninety-five per cent of the freight interests of the United States that, within two years, there will not be a car wheel turning in America which does not do so at the command of the A.P. railroad. That is the first step leading out of Vedder court. The news of that consolidation will be in tomorrow morning's papers, and from that minute on, the water will begin to drip from railroad stocks."

"How about Uncle Jim's road?" Gail suddenly interrupted.

"I am taking care of him," he told her easily. "From Vedder court run subways along the docks."

"I see!" interrupted Gail. "You have secured control of the steamship companies, of the foreign railroads, of everything which hauls and carries!"

"Airships excepted," he laughingly informed her.

She was silent now, and he left her silent, brooding, himself, upon the vast scope of his dreaming, and planning still to center more and more the fruits of that dreaming within his own eager hand.

Roseleaf inn. Gail recognized it with a smile as they turned in at the drive. She was glad that they had come here, for it was linked in her mind with the beginnings of that great project of which she had been the impulse, and in which the thing in her that had been denied opportunity because she was a woman, claimed a hungry share. At his suggestion—it was more like a command, but she scarcely noticed—she telephoned that she was going to remain to dinner with Allison; and then they enjoyed a two-hour chat of many things, trivial in themselves, but fraught now with delightful meaning, because they had to think on so many unexpressed things, larger than these idle people about them could conceive, or grasp if they knew.

Homeward again in the starlit night, still in that whirl of exultation. It was somewhat chillier now, and Allison bundled her into the machine with rough tenderness. She felt the thrill of him as he sat beside her, and the firm strength with which he controlled the swiftly speeding runabout, was part her strength. They were kindred spirits, these two, soaring above the affairs of earth in the serene compla-gency of those who make trifles of vastness itself. They did not talk much, for they had not much to talk about. The details of a scheme so comprehensive as Allison's were not things to be explained, they were things to be seen in a vision. Once she asked him about the bringing of the foreign railroads into the combination, and he told her that this would only be accomplished by a political upheaval, which would take place next month, and would probably involve the whole of Europe. It was another detail; and it seemed quite natural. She was so interested that he told her all about his foreign visitors.

In the park, Allison stopped at the little outlook house where they had climbed on that snowy night, and they stood there, with the stars above, the trees below and the twinkling lights stretching out to the horizon, all alone above the world of civilization. Below sounded the clang of street cars, and far off to the left, high in the air, there gleamed the lights of a curving L train. That was a part of Allison's world which he had long since conquered, a part which he already held in the hollow of his hand; and the fact that every moving thing which clung upon a track in all this vast panorama was under his dominion, served only to illustrate and make plain the marvel of the accomplishment which was now under way. Beyond that dim horizon lay another and still another, and in them all, wherever things moved or were transported, the lift of Allison's finger was to start and stop the wheels, to the uttermost confines of the earth! Oh, it was wonderful; wonderful! And she was part of it!

It was there that he proposed to her. It did not surprise her. She had known it when they had entered the park, and that this was the place. He told her that all this empire was being builded to lay at her feet, that she was the empress of it and he the emperor, but that their joy was to be not in the sway, not in the scepter and crown, but in the doing, and in the having done, and in the conceiving and having conceived.

Was this a cold painting of pomp and glory and advantage and reward? He added to it the fire of a lover, and to that the force and mastery and compulsion of his dynamic power. She felt again the potent thrill of him, and the might and sweep and drive of him, and with the hot, tumbling words of love in her ears, and her senses a-reel, and her mind in its whirling exultation, she felt between them a sympathy and a union which it was not in human strength to deny! Something held her back, something made her withhold the word of promise, on the plea that she must have more time to think, to consider, to straighten out the tangle of her mind; but she suffered him to sweep her in his arms, and rain hot kisses upon her face, and to tell her, over and over and over and over, that she belonged to him, forever and forever!

TORNADO LOSS IS $2,000,000

Ten Dead In Gulf Storm at New Orleans.

MANY FATALITIES REPORTED

Falling Buildings, Falling Debris and High Wind Causes 150 Persons to Be Injured—Wind Velocity Reaches 150 Miles an Hour.

New Orleans, La. (via Baton Rouge) Oct. 1.—Damage by the tropical storm in New Orleans is estimated at nearly $2,000,000, and the loss of life is placed at ten.

It was estimated that at least 150 persons were injured by the collapse of buildings, falling signs or flying glass.

The maximum velocity of the wind was reported by the weather bureau as between 120 and 130 miles an hour.

The wind blew at this rate for one minute. The highest sustained velocity was eighty-six miles.

For more than seven hours the hurricane swept over the city at a rate of more than sixty miles an hour. The lowest mark registered by the barometer was 28.11, which, according to local weather bureau officials, is the lowest mark ever registered in the United States.

Scarcely a large plate glass window remains intact in the downtown section and many stocks of goods were damaged by wind and rain. Signs, telegraph, telephone, electric light poles, wires and debris from damaged buildings littered streets and hundreds of structures were unroofed or demolished in various parts of the city.

In the Cumberland Telephone company's exchange, fifteen persons, mostly girls, were injured when all the windows in the east front on the floor where they were working crashed in.

Police and fire department were kept busy responding to calls for assistance and investigating reports of collapsed buildings.

Two hundred young women were removed by the police in automobiles and police vehicles from a cigar factory threatened with destruction just before nightfall. They were housed in the criminal court building until the storm abated.

Numerous school buildings and churches were destroyed or badly damaged by the wind. Approximately 8,000 telephones were rendered useless and trolley service was suspended.

Lake Pontchartrain rose twelve feet during the storm, sending water over the sea wall and flooding streets in Milneburg. Communication with Louisiana points on the gulf coast was cut off, but last reports indicated the inhabitants had fled to higher ground.

On the river front many small vessels were swamped and the municipal warehouses in many instances were stripped of the corrugated iron sheeting, which was bolted to the steel framework and formed the walls of the structures.

Many passengers on the San Antonio express of the Southern Pacific railroad spent the night on the railroad ferry which grounded in the Mississippi river, two miles above the city. Four tugs stood by all night, and although it was said the passengers were in no danger the heavy sea made it impossible for the tugs to attempt to take them off.

All railroads reaching the city canceled their trains. The Louisville & Nashville, which uses numerous trestles and bridges in traveling the edge of Mississippi sound and the Queen & Crescent system, operating trains over the Lake Pontchartrain trestle for seven miles, all exposed to the full force of the storm, were unable to report whether these structures were damaged.

If You Are Looking For An INVESTMENT WORTH WHILE

Here Is Your Opportunity

The Co-operative Building and Loan Association will open Series K of its stock Monday, Oct. 4. You invest 25 cents each week and receive credit every three months with the dividends earned from loaning the money on first mortgage on real estate. The dividends for the past year have amounted to 7.12 per cent. on the investment. In a little over six years the weekly payments and dividends amount to one hundred dollars per share. The stock is then mature and is withdrawn.

This form of saving combines many elements that will appeal to investors, especially to those who can invest a small amount regularly every week or month.

1. All loans are made on first mortgage based on careful appraisalment of the real estate. This makes the very best possible security for the money.

2. Regular investments each week enable many people to accumulate a comfortable sum which would otherwise be spent because the weekly amount seem so small and hardly worth saving.

3. Such a fund is available at any time in case a business opportunity opens, or in case of misfortune or sickness where money is needed.

4. It encourages the habit of saving. Many people earn enough money but have never learned the habit of saving systematically.

5. It lays the foundation for financial independence. After a few years of systematic saving it is possible to pay cash for a home, or a business, or even an automobile.

Call at the office of the Association and arrange to take some stock in Series K which opens Monday, Oct. 4.

THREE KILLED; TWO INJURED

Powder Explodes While Being Handled by Workmen.

Haskell, N. J., Sept. 30.—Three workmen at the plant of the E. I. Du Pont De Nemours Powder company in this town were killed, one was fatally injured and a fifth was terribly burned when 800 pounds of powder exploded while it was being transferred from a truck to a small drying shed.

The dead are: Edward Herring of Haskell, James Watson of Paterson, and Fred Williams of Riverdale.

According to workmen, Watson and Herring were unloading the freshly manufactured explosive from the truck into the shed, which is a light frame structure about fifteen feet square when the charge was set off. Superintendent Lyons of the Haskell plant said later that the explosive was a pure accident, probably caused by friction. No attack by any person antagonistic to the company, because of its war exports, is suspected.

Great Old Remedy For Skin Diseases

S. S. S. Clears Skin of Eruptions Drives Poison From the System.

Get it fixed in your mind that skin eruptions, Scrofula, Eczema, burning itching skin, and all skin diseases are due entirely to impure and infected blood. If the trouble was on the outside of the skin, by simply washing and keeping it clean you could obtain relief—not even ointments, lotions, and salves, would be necessary. Agree with us in this belief, and your trouble can be relieved—you can be entirely restored to health. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable treatment that you can secure from your own druggist—it is a blood tonic that will purify your blood and cause a most decided abatement of your trouble, and finally make you entirely well. Fifty years ago S. S. S. was discovered and given to suffering mankind. During this period it has proven its remarkable curative properties as a blood purifier and tonic, and has relieved thousands of cases of disease caused by poor or impure blood, and chronic or inherited blood diseases. You can be relieved, but you must take S. S. S. Take it if only pimples appear, for they denote bad blood, and may be followed by the sufferings from torturing skin eruptions. Therefore be sure. Don't take chances, don't use lotions. Get S. S. S. from your druggist. If yours is a special case, write for expert medical advice to S. S. S. Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Two Conclusions

1. The people of Seymour read the Daily Republican. If there are 1,600 homes in our city, this paper reaches practically three out of every four.
2. The advertiser who wants to tell his store news to the people of Seymour will use the columns of the Daily Republican because the people read it.

If your neighbors are not taking this paper you can confer a favor on them if you let them know about its good qualities so they may share the pleasure and profit you are now enjoying.

ALLY LOAN IS NEARLY TAKEN

Syndicate Asserts Bonds Will Soon Be Sold.

MANY FOREIGN INVESTORS

Expected That Large Amounts Will Be Sold In England and Canada—More New York Banks Join the Syndicate.

New York, Oct. 1.—Within twenty-four hours after the first announcement was made, it was estimated that at least $450,000,000 of the $480,000,000, which the American underwriting syndicate is to furnish Great Britain and France as a credit to stabilize foreign exchange, was on the books of the syndicate members.

These subscriptions came, it is said, from New York city, Chicago, Boston, which takes in New England; Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburg, Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Chicago, which is put down for $50,000,000, has shown more interest in the loan since the return of Lord Reading and his fellow commissioners and word came that a syndicate group will be organized there. There may not be many Chicago banks in the group, but there will be individuals, private banking institutions and banks from other sections where the German sentiment is not so strong. One dispatch from Chicago promised $100,000,000, but the amount is placed at one-half.

No estimate was made for Cleveland, nor for Omaha, Kansas City, Denver, Portland, Ore., and other cities where equally favorable reports are received.

The word from Boston declared that not only in the wealthy investing classes of that city will the bonds find favor, but in every one of the manufacturing centers of New England. It was the same way from Philadelphia, while Pittsburg has already committed itself to its $20,000,000. Minneapolis and St. Paul, which will speak for the great wheat growing belt, will probably want more, but that amount is said to be in sight.

No estimate is put down for the Canadian subscriptions, nor the subscriptions that are expected to come from England itself, to say nothing of Holland and other Britains who are likely to subscribe through New York institutions, as will Holland. The Canadians will use banks of Boston, New York and Chicago.

Eight new names were added to the membership of the New York group. Two of these were of banks, three of trust companies and three of private banking institutions. This brings the number of members up to fifty-nine—banks, trust companies and private firms—but does not include the names of individuals whose subscriptions make them members of the syndicate. Undoubtedly the ruling of the comptroller of the currency that these bonds do not come within the 10 per cent limitation and the further agreement of the stock exchange to treat them as it does government bonds, will bring in more banks.

The banks added were the bank of the Manhattan company and the Hanover National bank. The trust companies were the Columbia and Union companies, and the United States Mortgage and Trust company. The private firms were Blair & Co., C. D. Barney & Co., Lazard, Freres.

REOPEN BIG CANAL OCT. 10

Worst Tie-Up From Slides Ditch Has Experienced.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Lieutenant Colonel Harding, acting governor of the Panama canal, reported to the war department that the waterway will probably not be reopened to traffic until Oct. 10 on account of continued movement of the slides in Gaillard cut. This is the worst tieup the canal has experienced from slides since it was opened to general traffic. Lieutenant Colonel Harding's message follows:

"Further movement of slides filled channel in same place. Difficulty limited to stretch of 600 feet of canal, where conditions cause unusual rapidity of movement. The dredging plant is making its highest output of record and situation is well in hand, but until present difficulty moderates it is impossible to maintain. From present outlook canal will not be opened before Oct. 10.

Sent to Reformatory.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 1.—Jess and Abe Christie, who sawed the bars at the Tippecanoe county jail and fled into the country, where they were caught, were taken to the Jeffersonville reformatory to serve terms of two to fourteen years for grand larceny. They were arrested in August for burglarizing a meat market.

He reviewed the veterans in their grand parade commemorating the Army of the Potomac's peace march into the capital just fifty years ago.

4,600 MILES BY WIRELESS

Successful Experiment Made by American Telephone.

New York, Oct. 1.—To the announcement that T. N. Vall, president of the American Telegraph and Telephone company had talked by wireless telephone from Arlington, Va., to Mare Island, Cal., a distance of 2,500 miles, was added the still more remarkable one that the voice of John Mills, an engineer of the New York staff of the company, speaking into the receiver of the apparatus at Arlington, had been heard at the Pearl Island naval station in Hawaii, 4,600 miles away.

This experiment had been carefully planned out previously by cable. At the appointed hour Mr. Mills began to count into the transmitter at Arlington. His words and numbers and a few simple words, which followed them were caught by Lloyd Espenchied, another engineer of the company stationed at the receiver in Hawaii, and later were returned with confirmation of the time when they were received by cable. The Arlington station is the only one equipped with a sending apparatus.

WAS DRUNK ON MORPHINE

Salem Man Causes Trouble to Columbus Officials.

Columbus, Ind., Oct. 1.—Edward Harding, who says he lives in Salem, has presented a knotty problem to Mayor Volland. Harding was put in jail on an intoxication charge, and when sober enough to be taken into court, he admitted he was drunk but says he was drunk on morphine which he bought at Louisville some time ago. He insisted he was not drinking liquor.

Harding is said by the police to have as a cripple on the streets here and to have sold lead pencils as a means of making a living. He has been in the city court three times recently and has been released each time on his promise to leave the city.

Suffered Everything Until Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Florence, So. Dakota.—"I used to be very sick every month with bearing down pains and backache, and had headache a good deal of the time and very little appetite. The pains were so bad that I used to sit right down on the floor and cry, because it hurt me so and I could not do any work at those times. An old woman advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I got a bottle. I felt better the next month so I took three more bottles of it and got well so I could work all the time. I hope every woman who suffers like I did will try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. P. W. JANSENG, Box 8, Allyn, Wash.

SIX CADETS DISMISSED FOR HAZING OFFENSE

Four Other Suspended and Fifteen Turned Back to Lower Classes At Annapolis.

By United Press.
Washington, October 1—Six cadets of Annapolis were dismissed, four suspended for one year and fifteen were turned back to the next lower class as a result of the hazing investigations at the naval academy, Secretary Daniels announced today. None was from Indiana.
Among those set back were: S. W. Benson, the son of Admiral Benson, chief of operations in the navy, and A. B. Craig, the son of Governor Craig of North Carolina.
President Wilson personally approved dismissal of the six cadets who Secretary Daniels said had been guilty of several hazing offenses.
"Hazing will not be tolerated," said Daniels. "We are determined it should be eradicated. There is no room in the academy for any men who will not obey orders and the laws of congress. It costs $12,000 for the government to educate a cadet and the first thing is to learn to obey orders."

Well Known Farmer of Uniontown Neighborhood Dies of Complication of Diseases.

The funeral of the late James Bedel, who died Wednesday afternoon at his home near Uniontown, was held this afternoon at the Uniontown Baptist church and was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Bailey, of Scottsburg. The services were largely attended by the friends of the deceased.
Mr. Bedel was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Bedel and was about seventy-four years of age. He was the last member of the family. For years he was a resident of the Uniontown neighborhood and had many friends who admired his excellent character. He is survived by three sons, Ed Bedel, trustee of Vernon township, Leonard and Virgil Bedel, and one daughter, Miss Josephine. He also leaves several grandchildren.

Gems In Verse

A MODERN CLEON.
JOHNSON lives in New York city,
On the ocean I
Johnson dwells within a palace,
In this forecastle I,
Johnson's worth ten million dollars,
Not a sou have I,
Yet, betwixt us, who's the poorer?
Johnson, sir; not I.
Johnson sups on dainty viands,
Pork and beans have I,
Johnson drinks imported champagne,
Mine a nip of rye,
Johnson owns a princely wardrobe,
One blue suit have I,
Johnson's ailing, I am hearty;
Happier man am I.
Dogged with care and swamped in riches,
Johnson heaves a sigh,
Like the sea breeze whistling round me,
Worries pass me by,
Conscience pricks, the future threatens,
Johnson fears to die—
Here's my hand, Death, come and grip it,
Shipmates, you and I.
Johnson heeds not God or nature,
Their adorer I,
Thrilled with color, filled with music
Of the sea and sky,
Calm and tempest, sun and starlight,
Nature's child am I,
Soul for soul and state for state,
Who would change? Not I.
—Contributed.

THE LOVE WE LIVE.

TO live love, not to speak it;
To act love, not to tell;
A haunting charm and beauty,
A fine and secret spell.
To breathe it and exhale it,
To scatter it as one
Who walks the bubbles of the air
And treads on hills of sun.

THE love we tell is shallow,
The love we live is true;
With all its ancient passion,
The love we live is new.
Fresh as a spring just happened,
Glad as a rose just born,
It is the singing summons
Of rapture and of morn.

AND what is romance, dearie,
And what is all life's glow,
But love that true hearts living
Have known and ever know.
Not merely lips' outpouring,
Not merely vow and word;
The love that counts is action,
That sings and feels unheard.

FOR love lived is so lasting,
So brave and tense and fine;
Undaunted through all danger,
In shadow as in shine.
And back from its own reaping
Of bliss and joy and trust
It bringeth to time's keeping
The faith that makes us just.
—The Bentztown Bard.

SAFETY FIRST.

THERE was a man in our town, and he was wondrous wise,
He bought himself an aeroplane to travel through the skies;
And when he saw a creditor, with all his might and main,
He'd hurry to his hangar for his little aeroplane.
—Philadelphia Ledger.

DAY AND NIGHT.

I NEVER knew—how could I know?
The glory of a perfect day,
The dawning and the afterglow,
The blush of roses born in May,
The crystal white of falling snow,
Until her face had turned away!
—Roscoe Gilmore Stott.
